

SAM GOES TO THE CLINIC

Hello, I'm Sam.
I've come to the clinic with my mom.
I brought my favorite toy and a snack to eat.

When you go to the clinic, you will meet a lot of really nice doctors.

First we meet Vickie.
She is here to help us.

Vickie says we can wait here.
I can play with the toys.
I am waiting for Dr. Liza.

I am playing games with Dr. Liza.
I can also play with her toys.

I can have my snack.
Maybe I will take a rest.

Vickie wants to take some pictures of me.

The Doctor has a special purple light.
She uses the light in the dark to look at my skin.
The light is not hot.

Next Vickie wants me to spit into a tube.
She shows me how to do it.

The Doctor and Vickie want to see how big I am.
I try not to wiggle.

We then go to another place called the lab.

We meet the people at the lab.

I try to be very still.
The lab person gives me a little poke in my arm.
It doesn't hurt much because she is very gentle.

When I am done I get a sticker.

It is time to go home.
Good bye Vickie.

We would like to express our most sincere gratitude to all who have collaborated and made this story possible. First, to our little star, Diego Villalobos and his mother, Lidia Ulloa Villalobos, whose gorgeous faces beautify these pages. Thank you for your patience and great sense of humor. To the volunteers who gave us advice on how to make an developmentally appropriate story for children, Jill Standen and Jane Schoenfeld, members of the Community Advisory Board. Thank you for giving us the words that help the families through this experience.
